

AUTHOR'S DECLARATION | COPYRIGHT AGREEMENT

1. The following agreement is valid under the condition that the article submitted to be published by Walter de Gruyter GmbH und Co. KG (the "Publisher"), owner of the journal Biomedizinische Technik / Biomedical Engineering (referred to as the "Journal") is accepted.

2.1. The Author grants to the Publisher (respective to owner if other than the Publisher and for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable) the following rights:

- The right to reproduce and distribute the Article in printed form, including print-on-demand
- The right to produce prepublications, reprints, and special editions of the Article
- The right to translate the Article into other languages
- The right to reproduce the Article using photomechanical or similar means such as photocopy and telecopy, as well as the production of microcopy, microfiche, or microform editions, and the right to distribute these reproductions
- The right to reproduce and distribute the Article on any and all data carriers
- The right to store the Article electronically or optically on any and all data carriers or storage media – especially in machine readable/digitalized form on data carriers such as hard drive, disk, CD-Rom, DVD, HD-DVD, Blu-ray Disc (BD), Mini-Disk, magnetic tape – and the right to reproduce and distribute the Article via these data carriers; the right to store the Article in databases, including online databases, and the right of transmission of the Article in all technical systems and modes; the right to make the Article available to the public or to closed user groups on individual demand, for use on monitors or other readers (including e-books), and in printable form for the user, either via the internet, other online services, or via internal or external networks.

2.2. The rights pursuant to clause 2.1 shall be granted as exclusive rights for the duration of the copyright, each unlimited in geographic scope.

Should the Author wish to reproduce and distribute the Article elsewhere after one year following publication, s/he must obtain the written consent of the Publisher. Taking into account the interests on both sides, the Publisher shall not unreasonably withhold its consent.

2.3. The Publisher may transfer the rights granted to it pursuant to clauses 2.1. and 2.2. in whole or in part to third parties, or may grant licenses to third parties to use rights to which it is entitled. Any claims from agreements between the Author and performing rights societies (Verwertungsgesellschaften), in particular VG Wort, to which the Author is entitled shall remain unaffected.

2.4 The Author furthermore grants the Publisher the exclusive, permanent and territorially and substantively unrestricted rights for the unknown types of use on the date of the conclusion of this Agreement. The grant of rights shall also extend to the exploitation of rights of use both in the Publisher's own publishing company and through the grant (including a partial grant) of rights to third parties against remuneration or free of charge.

3. The Author warrants that a) s/he is entitled without restriction to grant the rights to the Article to the extent as stated in clause 2.1. to the Publisher; b) that the Article is not libellous and does not infringe on any copyrights, performing rights, trademark rights, personal rights or any other third party rights or is otherwise unlawful; c) that the Article or substantial parts thereof have not been published elsewhere.

4. An author may deposit an author-created version of his/her article on his/her funder's or funder's designated repository at the funder's request or as a result of a legal obligation, provided it is not made publicly available until 12 months after official publication. He/ she may not use the publisher's PDF version, which is posted on www.reference-global.com, for the purpose deposit. Furthermore, the author may only post his/her version provided acknowledgement is given to the original source of publication and a link is inserted to the published article on De Gruyter's website. The link must be accompanied by the following text: "The final publication is available at www.reference-global.com". The author is requested to use the appropriate DOI for the article

5. The Author shall retain a complete copy of the manuscript for his/her files.
